

At Big Spring Middle School, some of our homeroom teachers show a 10-minute student friendly news clip called CNN 10. This news program does not preach or politicize topics, rather it gives a brief overview of BIG topics in the news, both nationally and internationally. It focuses on current events reflective of all of our core subjects as they show-up in the news.

Back in the day (I'm dating myself.)...this program resembles what used to be called "Channel One News". If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to reach-out and ask. Below is a link where you can view the individual segments.

What is CNN 10?

Explaining global news to a global audience: This is the mission of CNN 10, a 10-minute news show that appears as a daily digital video on CNN.com.

CNN 10 replaced CNN Student News, the network's longest-running show that first aired in 1989. CNN 10 serves an audience interested in compact on-demand news broadcasts - either on the go or in the classroom. The show's priority is to identify stories of international significance and clearly describe why they're making news, who is affected, and how the events fit into a complex, international society. The show maintains a neutral position on controversial topics. It seeks to provide multiple viewpoints, clear illustrations, and general overviews instead of graphic descriptions.
